

CCUS technology landscaping and target company selection

Japanese service provider

Our client was interested in investing in alternative start-up companies. We mapped out the CCUS technology landscape and identified potential target technology companies for our client to consider.

We described the landscape, assessing the status of relevant technologies (at various levels of TRL) and the potential market for those technologies.

At a selection workshop, the client, with our guidance, chose the technology areas to shortlist for further investigation.

We provided a long list of companies in the target technology areas, which were then systematically evaluated for consideration as investment targets.

TM performed due diligence of the selected companies in the next phase of work.
